Hahn's "Snider's Place" commemorates its place on the world stage with its unique flag-themed dart board. Most visiting players aim for the waviest flag on the board.

Going to Frankfurt? You need to visit Hahn. Well, you have to visit Hahn. Luckily for you it's a non-stop adventure of fields and nail treatments with not a frankfurter in sight.

Hahn Solo.

Famous Hahn-based airline, Hahn Air, left Hahn in 2003 leaving Hahn on its own to fend for itself. CrynAir stepped in, offering cheap flights for everyone to experience the glory of Hahn. Start with Hahn's Activ Nails and end with suicide.

History.

Hahn Airport's previous life as a USA airbase was the source of much suffering and angst for many. That misery continues today as millions of people experience the kind of regret and distress that only CrynAir passengers can fully appreciate.

Geography.

Frankfurt is overrated anyway.
